Pennsylvania State Police have confirmed the man killed this morning by police in Illinois was the suspect in this week's homicide near Springboro.

Kenneth Edwin Martell, 36, was killed early this morning in an apparent police shooting in Lakemoor, Ill., Trooper Cynthia Schick, public information officer for state police Troop E, confirmed to the Tribune this afternoon.

Lakemoor, in northern Illinois, is about 50 miles northwest of Chicago and about 490 miles west of Springboro.

Martell had been wanted by Pennsylvania State Police at Meadville for killing Theodore M. Garver, 88, of 2443 Parker Road, Beaver Township, during a robbery at Garver's home on Monday.
